

Winter is upon us again and we are seeing another season change of fresh flowers in the store. Our wedding season is now over and this gives us time to work on some projects. We are most excited and proud to announce the Viva the flower store Peony Lunch which will be held this November at The Farm, Barossa function centre - full details are below. We are also looking forward to taking part in the Barossa Wedding Expo which will be held at Novotel Sunday August 29th. Keep warm and make sure you always have fresh colourful flowers in your house this winter - it's a must to cheer up your house and your day!

gift ideas

We have a stunning new range of Danish glass vases and bottles which are beautiful on their own or with fresh flowers, they make a single bloom look very elegant! We have more green gate arriving at the end of June, with gorgeous new designs in Latte Cups. Also arriving are new decorative wall plates and trees by Chik Designs as seen in many trendy home magazines. There are also beautiful new Fabric necklaces, which are great worn over those winter jumpers!

fresh flowers

All the beautiful Bulbs are now in-store. We have Tulips - standard as well as the fancy parrots and double varieties. The Hyacinths are the best I've seen in years, they're very strong stemmed and we find they are lasting well. There are colourful Iris, stunning strong freesia and lots of new varieties in Lilies. We also received our first delivery of Blushing Bride last week. Plenty of winter branches. The cold wet weather will soon bring on the poppies - we can't wait!

workshops

There are still some spaces available to our winter floral workshops - see the website for full details.

peony lunch

We are already counting down to the start of peony season, they are such special flowers and are eagerly awaited by all flower lovers every year. I think part of their beauty is that it's one of the few flowers that still has a real season and is available for such a short time. This year we have decided to celebrate this by holding a Peony lunch! You will be sent an invitation soon, but here's the low down - 12 noon, Sunday 21st Nov. at The Farm. We will have some guest speakers talking about peonies - how and where they grow and why we are so fascinated with these amazing flowers. The Beer girls will be cooking up a storm for us and taking care of us on the day. Tickets will be $95, you can register your interest by reply email to us here at Viva (not the Farm, Viva are handling the bookings). avril@vivaflowerstore.com
